A COAL OIL CAN AND HUMAN LIVES

Within a space of sixty days two lives have been taken and three persons seriously burned in this community, all because the laws governing combustion were violated. In addition three homes were destroyed with contents, all of which can hardly be replaced under present economic conditions.

The property loss can be replaced at some future time but not without effort and sacrifice but the two lives have been blotted out forever and one of the burned victims has for two months suffered torture and is yet a hospital patient, all because coal oil cans and contents were used to start fires in two of the three homes destroyed.

When will we remember to use a safer method of starting fires? When will we place the value of human life above a moment of time and the value of the homes we prize? No doubt there were many other home fires started the same mornings these homes burned and no harm befell the occupants, but who knows how many times in these homes now a memory fire were started before the ill-fated fires consumed everything?

Insurance can replace some values lost due to fire but it never has and never will give one, dollar for dollar, value on the original investment. Insurance can never relieve suffering of those that are victims of such fires. The attending physician can give some relief from oil burns but the suffering will be great at best.

Insurance companies have warned the public time after time about the use of oil in containers for starting a fire. The press reports daily such accidents but for some reason the public fails to heed the warning and the old, old story is repeated, just as it was in this community this week.

The next time you pick up the oil can to start a fire just picture that mother and the fourteen month old son in the bowels of an inferno grasping for aid, and yet helpless. Such a picture should impress on every individual the great danger and the ultimate consequence by using coal oil in that manner to start a fire.

ROOSEVELT WANTS FARM BOYS IN ARMY BUT SAYS NOTHING ABOUT NEW DEAL DESK SLACKERS

The farmers of the nation were more or less put on the spot last week by Franklin D. Roosevelt, who ordered the draft lists checked for "farm slackers" or probably "lazy farmers" as one New Dealer expressed himself in Washington some time ago. Roosevelt also included industry as having a part in protecting the "young slackers" as he branded them. He must have had in mind certain industries in Dayton with Democratic sons of draft age deferred by the draft boards. Nor did he say one word about the 300,000 federal employees of draft age that are marked as "patriotic," "essential," serving their country behind government desks in every state in the union and of that number 35,000 in the city of Washington alone. Most of these "patriotic" are sons of Democratic politicians. Sen. Harry Byrd of Virginia, leading Democrat, has for months been prodding the White House on that issue, and urging a house cleaning but Roosevelt is "deaf and dumb" on that score.

Roosevelt and McNutt have devised a "point system" to rate these favorite slackers. Another point system has been fixed to make it impossible for a boy on a small farm to meet the requirements and of course he will be called while the Roosevelt desk slackers will remain in Washington. Roosevelt holds older men can do all the work on the farm. Older men cannot do the desk work. Followers of the New Deal with sons of draft age, especially farmers, certainly will have a test of faith and sincerity of the last Roosevelt order. Earlier in the war you will recall Roosevelt stated, "Farmers would have to work harder, longer and for less, as a patriotic contribution to the war effort." He is the one individual that has been denied even pay for the family labor on the farm in computing farm prices, yet Mr. Roosevelt nods his head daily to continued increase in wages for organized labor.

Admirers of "Mamma" Roosevelt must have as much of a shock the past few days as have the farmers over the induction of their sons, unless other labor is provided. "Mamma" Roosevelt is out with a press release giving her views why every boy and every girl in the nation should be compelled to give one year of their lives at the age of 17 or 18 in a military camp for their country. In as much as thousands upon thousands of Germans have left their native country to escape military service and Germany is reaping that harvest now. Italy had compulsory military training as well as other European countries and we are fighting a war to free people that have been forced to live under military rule. The Roosevelt is obsessed for military power. More people are being convinced daily that we will never see the end of the present war or have our sons, husbands or nephews back in civil life as long as Franklin Roosevelt is president of the United States. Under his administration we are nothing more than the "cotton ball" in the paws of the British lion. Mr. Roosevelt demanded that the Congress stand up and be counted on the "bob-tailed ballot" and now is the time for American citizens to stand up and demand a return to sane American ideals. If not, then we must defend national honor, demand impeachment of the whole Roosevelt dynasty.

IF YOU NEED PRINTING, DROP IN

in Washington learning that Canada was to drop meat rationing of all kinds, rushed into print and over the radio that Americans can have a bite more of pork regardless of the fact it was only last week the OPA announced the withdrawal of the extra pork stamp for five pounds. The reason given was there would be a scarcity of meat during March and the spring months. When Canada took off rationing the OPA found a lot of meat somewhere to give another bite for the American table. There would be no glut in the livestock market of hogs if the ration restrictions were lifted. The farmer would benefit and the market price would break, along with the advantage the Canadian farmer is to get. Canada has no Communists that country. On this side the Communists masquerade as Democrats.

The interior squabble among the New Deal diplomats over Russia and open charges that certain high Catholic officials and dignitaries were responsible for many of Stalin's acts indicates all is not "peaceful" in the circle trying to sell a certain brand of "world peace." We wonder what has become of the "Big Five" out of Congress that tried to sell their plan of "peace making" to the world. Our own Ohio Senator, Harold Burton was caught in the trap and now is meek as a mouse. He probably tried to sell himself to the Cleveland Communists that control the Democratic party in that city.

Paul Mallon, noted columnist, says the spread of juvenile delinquency that is overloading the courts in the nation is due to the saloon, that institution Roosevelt says was necessary to check bootlegging and must continue to uphold the morale of our armies and the people. The saloon of years ago did not encourage drinking among young girls and women. The old-timer did not permit minors to even accompany parents. Under the New Deal type returned by the action of FDR is now considered a public disgrace in finding a way to curb juvenile delinquency. The mother in industry of the saloon of course can not have much influence over the family, and children go and come as they please. It was not so long ago we witnessed a service man driving a car away toward Xenia, leaving her a young girl companion. Both were so intoxicated it required the service of another person to get the girl in the car. Regardless of the fact the service man was intoxicated he drove away towards Xenia, leaving her about 12:30 midnight. The juvenile delinquency problem is in the laps of the parents that preach the gospel and uphold the Roosevelt New Deal administration.

The New Deal is cooking up a lot of new dishes for the American public. Being heaven-sent as they claim and self-ordained the crack-pots feel themselves the custodians of the people that must submit to dictatorial orders. Stories we get from boys in the service are amusing. One wanted to know if we ever tasted any "New Deal hay", meaning dehydrated food used in the Army. Another calls the concentrated and dehydrated "Roosevelt hash" dog-vomach. Two meals of this and your stomach is gone for two weeks when you do not want to eat any kind of food. Another says he never did see that famous Roosevelt Turkey on Thanksgiving. Instead he had eggs and milk, the first he had tasted in two months.

Remember we have to feed our allies. England wants no substitutes. For a time the British would take powdered eggs, powdered milk, meat of any kind. Under lend-lease British tastes have changed. Now they want fresh eggs and milk, boneless ham, short-ribs, steaks. The big packers had so many pig snouts, tails and chitterlings left, OPA had to remove these from ration points. Just fresh pork spoiled in the hands of Columbus retailers because the public did not have enough ration points.

As for new concoctions we find a new one in "Better Homes and Gardens" on Alfalfa Soup. "If one dehydrated soup company's experiments run out, we may be right out there in the field competing with Porky Pig and Milch Cow Moo for the tender green alfalfa green shoots. When properly dehydrated, the experimenters say, alfalfa contains more Vitamin A than carrots and more C than lemon juice. For what it's worth, we tried some green-grass juice and a lawn-clipping salad once. That was several years ago when the scientists announced that grass was just about the vitamin-richiest thing going; we'd rather distend our bellies and wither our limbs with starvation than eat that stuff."

While farmers travel from home to various points in the county to get for their tractors under the dictatorial policy of the Roosevelt New Deal, all for the purpose of saving gasoline for the armed forces, Mrs. Gad-about Roosevelt is to burn up a lot of gas in a big bomber to visit the Caribbean Islands to keep the soldier boys in a good humor for she says they are lonely and want company. In making the trip we fear there is more politics for the "bob-tailed ballot" than there was interest in a homesick soldier. Meantime save your gas so the royal family can "Gad-about" as if there was no war.

Walter Winchell gives the public a tip, being a professional on social scandal, and mouth-piece for the New Deal, says there is another divorce in the making for a famous family on Pennsylvania ave., Washington, D.C. The male principal has had one divorce and the spouse is evidently dissatisfied with a picture-taking war hero while other boys take gunfire. The New Deal rule on divorce is very simple and one that most anyone can follow. It is: "Find 'em; Feed 'em; Fondle 'em; Marry 'em and Forget 'em."

While "Natty McNutt" was on a speaking tour out among the states last week telling everyone how his man-power program was working 100 percent and anything else would have been a failure and a hindrance to the war, Franklin D. was undoing the McNutt boast by ordering a reclassification of farm boys for the army to make up some 300,000 man-power shortage for the army and navy. It must have been a shock to McNutt to know that the White House boss had just come out from under a coma after the "Dear Alben" Barkley knock-out. McNutt's listeners must have gone into a tail-spin over both promises. The situation resolves itself into a guess that the public has little or no confidence in any statement made by either Roosevelt or McNutt.

News Commentator Brown of the Mutual net-work over WKRC a few days ago put a new face on the war situation and particularly how we as a nation are losing the peace. His comment was indeed interesting for he gives the nation, our boys and all others of the nation, credit for winning the war. Then he gave a careful review of how we are losing the peace. Roosevelt and Churchill received no credit for winning the war but they did get credit for losing the peace through the new brand of diplomacy worked out by Roosevelt, Hull and Churchill.

While there was much fan-fare about the Atlantic charter and a promise of the "Four freedoms or was it five" at the North African conference when Roosevelt took a half hundred or more "court attaches" as would be expected of any king on such a mission, all riding in our largest and best bombers needed so bad on the Pacific waters to check Japan, using hundreds of thousands of gallons of gasoline the public had been asked to save to win the war. Commentator Brown says at that conference with Churchill we picked the wrong Frenchman to expect aid and support of the people in that country and it poses Brown also stated we (FDR and Winston) picked the wrong king in Yugoslavia and the wrong king in Greece, the populace in both of these countries refusing to follow them. As to Italy everyone knows now we picked the wrong king and his "stooge" for there has been nothing but turmoil among the people who want rid of both. Then we came to this side of the Atlantic and Roosevelt and Hull picked the wrong leader in Argentina and we got on the wrong side of the revolution in that country just as we did in Bolivia. Hull made a flying trip to Russia to confer with Stalin but so far we have gained nothing there, even remaining blind while the Russian bear eats up little "Finland", the only European country that has ever paid us one cent on the first World War debt. Russia wants part of Poland and part of Finland, as much as she wants Hitler. Stalin has said he did not have anything against the German people. He will in the end get part of Germany and millions more of people, we are supposed to be aiding for freedom, will be under Stalin's Communistic heel. Students of World History freely predict Russia will rule all Europe at the end of this war, regardless of what Roosevelt and Churchill say or do. It was the late Will Rogers who said: "We have won every war we ever engaged in and lost every 'peace' we ever dabbled in." George Washington once said: "Beware of foreign entanglements." But George lived before the days of the New Deal when everybody's business was to have a snooping nose in it.

JESUS URGES HIS DISCIPLES TO WATCH

LESSON TEXT: Mark 13:30-31. 31-37.
GOLDEN TEXT: Watch ye therefore: for ye know not when the master of the house cometh.—Mark 13:35.

God has a plan, and even now when men seem to have turned all order into chaos, we know that God is working out His purpose. The important crisis in that plan of God which we now await is the return of Christ, His second coming. He will come secretly to call His own Church, the Bride, to Himself, and then He will come openly, in great glory, when every eye shall behold Him. His enemies shall be confounded, and His eternal kingdom be established.

We look for His coming, but while we wait (and it may not be long!) we are to occupy for Him until He comes. Our lesson tells men.

What to Expect While Waiting for Christ (vv. 3-9).

First, we note that we are to expect the coming of false teachers and false Christs, who will claim to be the fulfillment of the prophetic Scriptures. We need only one additional warning concerning them. "Take heed that no man lead you astray." There have always been such false leaders who for the prominence or gain afforded them are willing to offer bewildering mankind all sorts of panaceas whereby it is supposed to solve its problems. It seems that these men increase in numbers when great crises, such as war, come upon the nations. Do not be misled by them. Just what we need is a man devoted and professes to be interested in Christ's return does not make him a dependable teacher. Are not these the very ones Jesus warned against? They must meet the test of all of God's Word.

Christ warns believers that before the end of the age there will be world-wide war, earthquakes in many places, and famines. These are to be expected, and will come. But here a word of caution is needed. We must not seize upon present events and rush out (or into print) and tell people that "this is it!"

We should be alert in relating world events to the teaching of Scripture, but let us "make haste slowly." But let no one assume that the need for caution justifies him in ignoring either the Word or world events. We are to be alert, well informed, spiritual and ready.

II. What to Do While Waiting for Christ (v. 10).

Preach the gospel! That is our first and most important business. Our Lord said that the whole world was to be evangelized before the end came. Please note carefully that He did not say that all nations will be saved, but that they will hear the gospel.

That is our responsibility—to see to it that every nation has a full and free opportunity to hear the blessed gospel message. We have not done it well. The failure of the Church at that point is a dark blot on its record.

There seems to be a revival of interest in the work of missions now, and there are many who believe that at the close of this war almost the entire world will be open for Christian missionaries. This will probably be true for a limited time only, and it is the urgent business of the Church now to prepare the missionaries who will then be needed.

And in the meantime we should all be busy about the most important matter of teaching and preaching the gospel. It is the best preparation for the coming of Christ and the thing we would want to be doing when He comes.

III. How to Live While Waiting for Christ (vv. 31-37).

There should be an air of expectancy constantly characterizing the Christian. We are looking for Someone—yes, a very definite and glorious One—our Lord Himself.

We do not know when He will come (v. 32). That is a matter hidden in the eternal councils of God the Father, a secret into which angels do not pry, and which even the Son did not know. Why then do foolish men attempt to learn it? Beware of any man who sets a date for Christ's return or for the end of the age. He is setting himself up as being superior to Christ, and you can be sure that he is an impostor.

We do not know the day, but of the fact we are sure. Christ is coming again! So we are to be watchful as we wait. God has not called us to stand idle, looking for the dawning of that glorious day. We are to be about His business, but everywhere and always, wide awake and looking for Him.

That kind of a believer (and all believers should be that kind) will pray. We are to "watch and pray." They go together. The one who prays will watch. The one who watches will pray. Possibly some of us are not praying because we have fallen asleep and no longer watch for His coming. Then too we probably fell asleep because we did not pray.

Apron-Like Effect

A styling which has been that well received it is being continued in the new fall collections, especially in back-to-school fashions is that which simulates an apron effect with ruffling, or with print borderings or with lace or eyelet embroidery edging used just as you see in this picture. This fair maiden is having lots of fun gardening in as pretty a gingham frock as ever one might hope to see. It's by a New York designer and it is a "last word" in chic. Dainty white eyelet batiste, trims the full front in apron-like effect, and spruces the shoulders and neck.

Sunback Dresses

Are Practical

Sunback dresses have set a new record in popularity. The interest shown in them this summer has been very genuine and sincere, in that women are appreciating more and more the value of sun rays as health giving. The fact that the sunback dress is in almost every event accompanied with either a matching or a contrast bolero, or some other type of short easily removable jacket, adds to its practicality. Wearing the jacket, one has a perfect costume for general wear throughout the active hours of the day. As an outgrowth of this trend, take note of the sunback-bolero styling given to a type of new blouses that are making conversation this season. You'll find these modish sun-inviting blouses comfortable to wear with jacket, skirt or slacks suits and they have an advantage over the dicky in that the jacket can be removed.

Junior Miss Will Choose

Peasant Prints for School

When young girls go back to school this fall they will take along with them such cheerful items as aprons made of gaily colorful peasant patterned cottons, picturing flaxen haired peasant girls dancing in dirdal skirts and laced-up-front fitted girdles, or perhaps printed with Alpine edelweiss. They will also take a jumper dress of corduroy or wool, decorated with cutout felt flowers in gayest Tyrolean mood. Tucked away in their wardrobe trunk will be slippers of peasant print, some tied with cotton string. A felt chit with matching bag in multi-color felt, simply cannot be counted out.

The McKibben Bible Class held its monthly covered-dish dinner Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hubbard with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Parker assisting.

of Congress, and called for the overriding of the veto—if there is one ounce of self-respect left in the Congress of the United States." He closed by announcing his resignation as Majority Leader would be submitted to the Democratic caucus. When he finished he was given a long ovation, the equal of which has never been seen by any of the older Capitol officials.

The action of the Democratic membership of the Senate in accepting Senator Barkley's resignation as Majority Leader, and then unanimously re-electing him, was in effect and purpose the declaring of the Senate's independence of White House domination. Alben Barkley is still the Majority Leader of the Senate, but he now represents the Democratic membership, not the President, in his official capacity. In replying to Mr. Roosevelt's letter of apology Mr. Barkley made very clear what his new position will be—and intimated most broadly that no longer will he or the Senate be subservient to the President.

TURN IT DOWN OR TURN IT OFF...

to Save Natural Gas

We ask all gas customers with manually controlled water heaters to turn up the flame only when hot water is needed for laundry or for bathing. The minute enough water is heated for the purpose reduce the flame or turn it off. Be very conservative in your use of hot water. Precious gas is required to heat it and gas must be conserved in order to maintain service without jeopardizing our vital war industries.
